

Instructions

Thank you for participating in "Abounaddara. The Right to the Image" and spreading awareness of Abounaddara's widely acclaimed work. By participating in this distributed online art exhibition you highlight and catalyze a network of politically engaged voices and platforms.

Your Exhibition

In preparing your own exhibition for your institution's website, use the texts, images and playlist provided in this media. As a condition of participation, we ask that you not edit or alter these materials.

For guidance, consult the websites of Vera List Center for Art and Politics (www.veralistcenter.org/engage/exhibitions/1983/abounaddara-the-right-to-the-image/) and Slought (slought.org/resources/the\_right\_to\_the\_image).

Contact us if you would like your participation acknowledged on our websites.

Finally, activate your page by posting new work by Abounaddara from their vimeo page (vimeo.com/user6924378) at exactly 12pm noon EST on three Fridays: October 23, October 30, and November 6, 2015. We encourage you to actively share information about the work of Abounaddara and your exhibition through social media.

Sharing the Exhibition

Please note that Abounaddara post their videos openly, and everyone is free to use them, forward them, and present them. We have developed this distributed online exhibition with this approach in mind and in collaboration with Abounaddara. We encourage you to share it with others in turn under the aforementioned conditions (that you not edit or alter these materials).

Contact us

Please contact the Vera List Center for Art and Politics and Slought with any questions that may arise during the preparation of your online exhibition.
